Recorlev is indicated for the treatment of Cushing's syndrome. Cushing's syndrome can be caused by an exogenous source of corticosteroids, or it can be endogenous. Endogenous Cushing's Syndrome is rare, with the most common form being Cushing's Disease, which is caused by a pituitary adenoma that secretes excess adrenocorticotropic hormone (ACTH), a hormone responsible for cortisol production. Cortisol is a hormone produced by the adrenal glands and has a role in many body functions. First-line treatment is surgical resection of the adenoma.

Recorlev (levoketoconazole) will be considered for coverage when the following criteria are met:

Cushing's Syndrome
